2024 Featured Exhibition Preview: 'Young Masters Art Prize' presented by Cynthia Corbett Gallery, London

We look forward to the upcoming featured exhibition of Young Masters Art Prize, presented by Cynthia Corbett Gallery, London, an international initiative committed to supporting and promoting emerging talents from diverse backgrounds.

Founded by gallerist Cynthia Valianti Corbett in 2009, Young Masters seeks to provide a platform for artists working in various media, who draw inspiration from artistic traditions of the past.

At the core of Young Masters is the triennial Art Prize, independently judged by an illustrious panel, offering emerging artists an opportunity to showcase their work globally. The initiative includes an international program of touring exhibitions and participation in art fairs, alongside a dynamic online presence, ensuring broad exposure for these promising talents.

Recognizing the growing interest in contemporary craft, Young Masters introduced the Maylis Grand Ceramic Prize in 2014. In 2017, the inaugural Young Masters Emerging Women Award celebrated female artists' contributions.

In 2023, Young Masters made a return following the challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic, presenting its 6th edition of the Prize at the 2024 LA Art Show. This edition stands out for its cultural diversity and strong representation of female-identifying artists, with 75% of applicants fitting this category.

The impact of Young Masters is evident, serving as a platform for over 350 artist alumni from across the globe. Notable alumni include British ceramicist and curator Matt Smith, British painter Flora Yukhnovich, South-African artists Gigs Kgole and ceramicist Lucille Lewin, artist duo Ghost of a Dream, and U.S.-based Iranian artist Azita Moradkhani.

We invite you to join us at the 2024 LA Art Show as we celebrate the talents nurtured by the Young Masters Art Prize and explore how these artists reinterpret the past to shape the future of art.

2024 Featured Exhibition Preview:

Dain Yoon presented by LP Gallery, South Korea

For our second featured exhibition, we invite you to explore the world of Dain Yoon, a renowned South Korean fine artist, currently residing in New York City. This featured exhibition is presented by LP Gallery from South Korea.

Dain Yoon has gained recognition for her distinctive illusion paintings, which extend from her own face and body to various artistic media. Her work delves into the intricate landscape of human emotions, each uniquely filtered through individual perspectives.

Dain Yoon's portfolio includes collaborations with notable artists such as Maurizio

Cattelan, Halsey, and James Blake, as well as partnerships with institutions like the Tate Modern and the Van Gogh Museum.

Face painting by artist Dain Yoon

In the exhibition I of the Beholder, Dain Yoon invites viewers to contemplate the depths of human emotions. She regards her face as a particularly sensitive and expressive canvas, with a focus on her eyes as the central point of her artistic expression. Through large-format oil paintings, she seeks to evoke a sense of unease in the audience. The decision to present the paintings without traditional wood paneling reflects her intent to convey the raw and delicate nature of her work.

The title, I of the Beholder, emphasizes the unique way in which each individual interprets art and emotion. This featured exhibition provides an opportunity to engage with the emotional narrative conveyed through Dain Yoon's art.

Join us at the LA Art Show taking place from February 14-18, 2024, and experience the work of Dain Yoon in person, as well as that of the Young Masters.

American Heart Association Tips for a Healthy Holiday!

The LA Art Show is pleased to support the American Heart Association (AHA), our 2024 charity beneficiary. We're thrilled to share tips and tools from the American Heart Association to make your holidays a bit brighter:

1. Form healthy habits: Do something active every day during the holiday season. Start the day with a healthy breakfast, limit your sweets and get at least seven hours of sleep each night. If you maintain your healthy habits, you won't have to start over after the holidays!
2. Beware of seasonal sweets: The holidays dish up temptation! Limit less healthful treats by preparing healthful snacks that are ready to eat when the urge strikes. If you're hosting a holiday party, make delicious and healthier options using our recipes and cooking tips.
3. Stay active: Instead of beating yourself up about missing a workout, sprinkle some healthy activities into your daily routine. If the weather isn't too frightful, take a break and ride your bike around the neighborhood. If dinner is going to be a feast, grab a light lunch, then take a vigorous walk. Keep the family moving. When the kids are home from school, squeeze in some active chores and trips to the park.
4. Don't be too active: Give yourself the gift of peace. If you need to recharge, do something relaxing, like yoga, meditation or spending time in nature.
5. Make a plan for the new year: Once the gifts are gone, it's a great time to reset for the new year – but don't dash through your to-do list too fast, or you might not stick to your plan. Make realistic, sustainable goals for the months ahead, like a daily walking routine – and sign up for a Virtual Heart Walk before you set your sights on that marathon!

Keep the holidays jolly by managing your stress and keep your blood pressure low. For more info on managing your blood pressure, click here.
